HAVE YOU SICK KIDNEYS?

SIGNS THAT TELL:

Is there tenderness or pain in the back?
Do you have pains in the loins and sides?
Is it difficult to stoop and hard to get up-right again?

Do your limbs drag and feel heavy? Do you find walking exhausting?

Have you noticed urinary disorders?

Is the urine thick, cloudy, stringy, or bad-smelling?

Is it scalding? Irregular in passing? Are you disturbed during the night?

Is there a brick-dust sediment from the urine after it has been standing all night?

Do you suffer from gravel or stone?

Are the muscles and joints stiff and rheumatic?

Do you ever feel irritable and depressed without apparent cause?

Are your eyes or ankles puffy and bloated?

Do your limbs swell?

Do you get neuralgic or rheumatic headaches and dizzy spells?

Is there any bladder inflammation or irritation?

Do you feel heavy and tired, especially on rising in the morning?

Is the skin dry, burning or itching?

Are there ringing noises in the ears?

Does the heart beat irregularly and sometimes violently?

Do you have flushes of heat and cold?

If you have any of the above symptoms, make up your mind that your kidneys are weak, and begin at once with Booth's Kidney Pills. The pages of this book prove that Booth's Kidney Pills cure kidney and bladder troubles—and cure them permanently.

TREATMENT OF STUBBORN KIDNEY SICKNESS.

Cases have frequently come to our notice in which the sufferer, after having tried many forms of treatment, has despaired of ever obtaining relief. In such cases as these Booth's Kidney Pills are often very efficient. While no advice can be given which will apply to all such cases, you will find the following recommendations most valuable: In the first place, "Don't worry." Be as cheerful and as happy as you can manage to be; don't think about your illness; read cheerful books, and go about amongst your friends as much as you can; in short, try to forget that you are ill. If you can, slack off your work a bit; eat good, plain food; avoid the use of tea or stimulants; take plenty of open air exercise and go to bed early. In general, lead a natural, healthy life. Keep the bowels open and free with Booth's Laxative. If you will follow this advice and will take Booth's Kidney Pills, you will need no longer despair of being cured—permanently cured. Many who have been pronounced incurable have been made well and kept well by Booth's Kidney Pills.

The second edition of "Booth's Famous People" is produced on account of the gratifying interest expressed on the presentation of first edition for 1908.

In presenting the portraits, short biographies, and sketches of some famous people, one can readily see that the "self-made" men and women are in the front ranks. The prominence and success of some has been attained quickly by literally taking the world by the throat and wrestling from it their measure, while others found hill after hill to climb, battle after battle to fight before the hard sought for recognition and success was realized.

In viewing the success of others, we are apt to conclude that it was gained easily, because we are not in possession of the inside information regarding the work undergone in climbing the ladder—busy people do not usually have time or inclination to talk about themselves. It's only the reflection of their work in the limelight that we see.

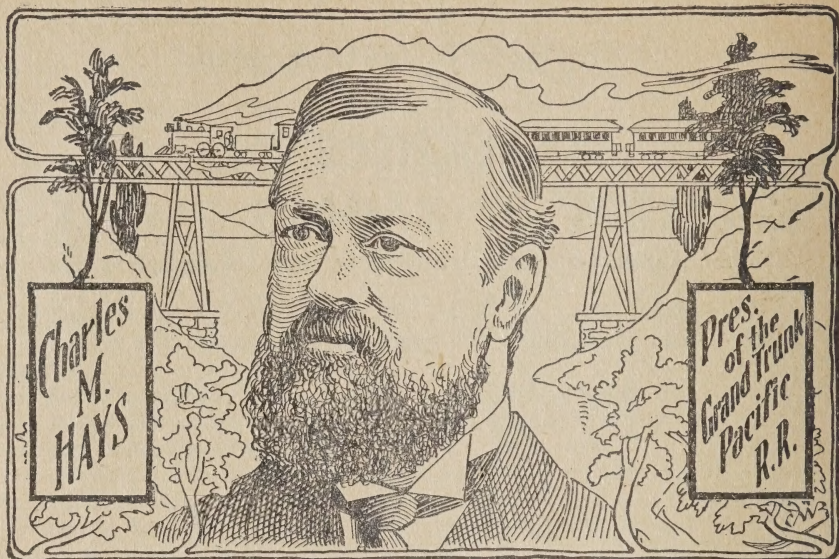

In a way it's the same with Booth's Kidney Pills. It took years in adding to and taking from this medicine to reach its present effectiveness, and it's only through a recent discovery and combination of some of the ingredients that the surprising cures of kidney, bladder and urinary troubles are possible.

The failure of other kidney pills to reach the cases cured by Booth's Kidney Pills is because they lack the up-to-date advantages in discovery represented in Booth's.

A very high standard of merit is demanded of any medicine prepared under the name of Booth with label of The R. T. Booth Co., Limited, that standard must be so high that druggists may sell the preparation with a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. This places an assurance in the hands of every man, woman and child purchaser of Booth's remedies that they are getting what they need or money back. No ordinary medicine will stand this test so peculiar to Booth's.

FORT ERIE, ONTARIO

One of the railroad men of the times who has mastered all the intricacies of railway work in his thirty-two years of continuous service is Charles Melville Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway. Born in 1856 at Rock Island, Ill., at the age of seventeen he began to learn the a-b-c of railroading as clerk in the passenger department of the Atlantic and Pacific road at St. Louis. Then, after a year of this schooling had proved his fitness, he was promoted to the auditor's department and later to the general superintendent's office. From 1878-86 he was secretary to the general manager of two big roads, then general manager, later attaining the dignity of general manager of the Wabash system, and in 1894 was elected vice-president.

In January, 1896, through the efforts of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, he was made general manager of the Grand Trunk at $25,000 a year with a five years' contract. The road was in a debilitated state of health; it needed heroic treatment.

Mr. Hays made it clear that, as he was to be responsible for results, he must be free to select his own means to produce them. He was not to be a puppet nor a figurehead. He must have the support of the Board of Directors in carrying out what he decided the road needed. As the Grand Trunk had to meet American competition, it must win its way by recognizing and applying American methods. The English scheme of operating did not fit the situation; the road needed a brisk, vigorous, clean-cut business system, with the moss of tradition all removed. Mr. Hays prescribed this and he saw that the medicine was administered.

Old bridges that should long before have been put on the retired list were taken down and modern steel bridges substituted; the road was double-tracked; primitive back-number rules and regulations were quietly eclipsed by introducing the Standard Rules in force in the States; the roadbeds were brought up to concert pitch; the rolling stock made the latest and best; slow trains were displaced by fast flyers; the road was transformed from a snailway to a railway; and trained men took the places of the old men whose one merit was influence at the home office.

In 1901 Mr. Hays retired to accept the presidency of the Southern Pacific; but the position proving distasteful, he was again secured for the Grand Trunk and is now busy with this road and his new project—the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

For Regular Heart Action, for Pure Blood, for Body Health.

The heart circulates the sap of life, the blood, but it is the kidneys that filter the blood and keep it pure and fresh. A great many indications of heart trouble are a result of the blood not being clear and clean, then disease takes hold quickly and the weakest part of the system, that with the least resisting power, will throw out signs of distress. The heart is continuously on the firing line of circulation and suffers from many things that we thoughtlessly do which first burden and weaken the kidneys, interrupt their work and prevent the blood being purified. The kidneys cannot recover without help. Over eating, over working, indulgence in strong drinks, loss of sleep or any other disregard of Nature's laws; exposure, colds, chills or fever; pregnancy and childbirth are all unusual strains which wears on the kidneys, puts them behind in their work and leave them unable to prevent the constantly collecting poisons from circulating freely about the body, to do injury everywhere attacking the weakest spot first.

CREATING BODY POISON.

The human body is all the time making poisons or collecting them from the food that we eat.

Every exertion of mind or muscle uses up a bit at the energy provided by the blood or nerves and leaves behind a little waste—like ashes at a fire. This poisonous waste (most of it a dangerous irritant called Uric Acid) is constantly being gathered up by the blood and passed along to the kidneys whose only duty it is to remove such poisons and pass them off together with all water waste in the urine.

THICK, HEAVY, IMPURE BLOOD.

Healthy kidneys drain off daily about 500 grains of poison and more than three pints of waste water.

If the kidneys do not do this duty thoroughly the uric acid and other solids multiply in the blood, making it thick and heavy, so that the heart is overworked and weakened. A cold or a chill, or the combination with certain things we eat will suddenly crystallize this uric acid in the muscles or joints. The jagged little particles will rend and tear the tissues when the parts are moved, causing intense pain, that from its different locations or descriptions is called neuralgia, lumbago, gout, rheumatism, or backache. Also, as stated above, the poisoned blood, instead of nourishing the organs, irritates them, causing troubles like indigestion, nausea, palpitation of the heart, liver trouble, failing eyesight, etc. These weakened parts show only their own distress, and thus the real cause is too often overlooked, for if the kidneys were made well the local troubles would disappear.

Now, then, who can afford to neglect the kidneys when they are sick, or fail to find an explanation for mysterious aches and pains, tired feelings, nervousness and other daily ills that might otherwise be wondered at.

HOW TO DETECT IT.

Learn to look to the kidneys for good health or bad health, to study their duties and their action. Thousands have sick or weak kidneys and do not know it, and yet if the symptoms are understood it is easy to detect and stop it in the beginning. Pain or stiffness in the back, lameness in the morning, dizziness and dull headaches are frequent signs, and the next step to take when you suspect the kidneys is to examine the urine. See that it has the clear amber color of health and that the full quantity, about three and a half pints, is passed every day, for if passages are too scanty or calls are frequent, if there is pain or a scalding sensation, there is something wrong.

At the first warning begin the use of Booth's Kidney Pills. This is a remedy for kidneys only, a special kidney tonic, that acts directly upon the membranes and the nerves of the kidney cells. The treatment stimulates, strengthens and cures; backache, kidney disorders, and bladder troubles yield quickly. Further relief is thorough and permanent, and old or young can use Booth's Kidney Pills with perfect safety, for the remedy contains nothing poisonous or of a narcotic nature.

On the tablet of the world's remembrance, surely high place belongs to those who have consecrated their lives to the betterment of humanity; who were great not for what they possessed but for what they gave, not for what they absorbed but for what they radiated, not for what they became but for what they helped others to become.

Among the Canadian women who have made philanthropy a living, vital atmosphere of helpfulness rather than mere theory of living, the name of Lillian Massey Treble deserves high praise. Born in 1854, in Newcastle, Ont., the only daughter of the late Hart A. Massey, of Toronto, who was the inspiration and impetus to some of the Dominion's most important industries and institutions, from her earliest moments she has lived in the atmosphere of wealth. Her fine mind was given additional strengthening and refining under the best instructors, and later in that best of schools—foreign travel—where observation is the teacher, and the many new cities and countries but new schoolrooms. The heiress of great estates, she consecrated herself and her wealth to the good of the world.

Her earliest work in the Fred Victor Mission in one of Toronto's neglected quarters soon convinced her that the primary source of good or evil in most instances is the home; that the greatest good to humanity must come from preventing evils, not from curing them, and from building up higher ideals of life and living. The first step in this work of regeneration was in the organization of domestic science classes in connection with the missions. Then came the demand for a higher grade of teachers, alive to their duties and their privileges; this led to the founding of the Lillian Massey School of Household Science and Art. In this institution the practical work of training women for the home, so that they may make home better for themselves and others, is the supreme aim of all the teaching. The education—literary, scientific, moral, practical—is all centered in making woman more fitted for the responsibilities and privileges of woman's sphere.

In 1897 Miss Massey was married to John M. Treble, of Toronto, but this made no difference in the intensity of purpose and helpfulness of her philanthropic life. Her work as trustee of the Fred Victor Mission, honorary president of the Canadian Household Economic Association, vice-president of the Women's Council of Toronto, and an executrix of her father's estate are but a few phases of her busy career.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Uric Acid Does its Deadly Work in the Dark.

It is important to know how uric acid shows its first effects, so that these effects may be quickly noticed and traced to their true cause. Then with the use of Booth's Kidney Pills the kidneys can be quickly cured and the uric acid carried off.

Doctors too often overlook the hidden cause of such local troubles, treating only the organ that shows the symptoms of distress, but doing nothing to remove the uric acid which causes that distress. Aside from common uric acid troubles, a still graver danger than any of these is the clogging of the kidneys themselves with solid matters, which rob them of their power of filtering the blood and lead in rapid stages into Bright's disease.

If you suffer with any of the symptoms mentioned on this page, an examination of the urine will usually tell you if the kidneys are affected. Then begin at once with Booth's Kidney Pills, which will promptly relieve the weakened kidneys, set them working aright, and the uric acid will be expelled in the natural way, that is, in solution in the urine. Do not take any chance. If there is any doubt, don't wait; cure the kidneys.

RHEUMATISM LUMBAGO NEURALGIA GOUT NERVOUSNESS

Rheumatism is brought on by uric acid crystals suddenly forming in muscles or joints. An attack may follow exposure to cold or dampness, drinking beer, or any other liquor, or tea or coffee.

Lumbago is like rheumatism, but located in the muscles of the back and accompanied by severe stiffness and lameness.

Neuralgia comes from the irritation of certain nerves by uric acid.

Gout is commonly supposed to come only to "high livers," but this is not true. High living often causes gout, but anybody can have it. Uric acid is combined with soda into a chalklike solid which collects in joints, particularly the joint of the big toe, and causes the most excruciating pain.

Nervousness is common to sufferers from uric acid poisoning. It is from the irritation of the nerves, and it is likely to take the form of extreme irritability, despondency, or undue worry.

HEADACHE DIZZINESS FAILING EYESIGHT HEART TROUBLE DROPSY

Headache is usually caused by the pressure of thick blood, laden with uric acid, circulating in the head.

Dizziness is an effect of uric acid on the brain and optic nerve.

Failing Eyesight. Uric acid often attacks the optic nerve, immediately weakening the eyes. This condition grows worse rapidly if not relieved.

Heart Trouble. When uric acid is dissolved in the blood it thickens the blood almost to a jelly. The heart can hardly pump it along. Weakened by the strain it flutters strangely and sometimes seems to stop.

Dropsy. Due to the same cause as heart trouble. The veins become distended and the walls thinned. The water in the blood leaks out into the near-by tissues and cavities, causing bloating, particularly of the ankles, wrists, legs and arms and beneath the eyes. Dropsy becomes very dangerous if this fluid leaks into the cavity around the heart.

SEDIMENT IN THE URINE GRAVEL STONE IN THE KIDNEY NAUSEA INDIGESTION

Gravel is the formation of uric acid into grains or pebbles within the kidneys, passing afterward into the bladder with fearful pain and from the bladder through the urethra out of the body. Sediment in the urine is from the same conditions and frequently a forewarning of gravel.

Stone in the Kidney starts like gravel, but the stone becomes lodged in the kidney and is likely to result fatally.

Nausea is caused by uric acid acting on the lining of the stomach which retches violently in the effort to expel the poison. Attacks usually come early in the morning.

Indigestion is often caused by the interference of uric acid along the whole digestive tract. It becomes very acute and painful, and no medicine will relieve it if the kidneys are not treated.

To be the guiding spirit of a great railway company, with a firm hand on the lever of a thousand phases of the work, requires long, practical, thorough experience, splendid executive ability in choosing and handling men, and a quick mind to decide vital issues on the moment if need be. Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy has these essentials and more; he is a tireless worker, a man of energy and enthusiasm, a keen common sense that cuts Gordian knots of difficulty with ease, and a prodigious memory that is always ready on the instant.

He was born in Milwaukee, Wis., of Irish parentage, in 1853, and after taking the usual course in the public schools had a little supplementary smoothing down and polishing in a business college. He entered the kindergarten of railroading in his first position in the purchasing department of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road, and it was not long before it was recognized that he had a good business head firmly set on his broad shoulders; and with constant purpose and undaunted determination he worked his way, never looking at the clock nor stinting his efforts, until in 1879, at the age of twenty-six, he was general storekeeper of the road.

In 1882 Sir William Van Horne, another alumnus of this railroad, which was a splendid college of training and experience, resigned from the Milwaukee & St. Paul to assume the management of the Canadian Pacific. He had been keeping close tally on Mr. Shaughnessy's work; he realized his possibilities and was confident that the young man was broad gauge enough to be equal to larger opportunities, and took him to Canada as general purchasing agent. Two years later he won, by his ability, the post of assistant general manager, later becoming assistant to the president, and in 1891 was made vice-president and elected a director, and in 1898, when Sir William Van Horne retired from the presidency, the opportunity of his life, the climax of the rosiest dreams of his ambition came to Mr. Shaughnessy when he was made president.

In October, 1901, his old folks at home in Milwaukee were roused from sleep one night by a telegram. In trembling fear his father opened the envelope and with wonder and delight read aloud these words from one of the great railway kings of the Western Hemisphere: "You may be gratified to know that His Majesty has conferred on me the honor of knighthood. One owes a great deal to a good father and mother. T. G. Shaughnessy."

THE URINARY TUBES AND THE BLADDER

Act as Pipes and Cistern for the Kidneys.

A tube (ureter) connects each kidney with the bladder. As the kidney draws off from the blood the poison, waste matter, and extra water, the solution thus formed flows into the bladder, and when it is full, you feel the desire to empty it.

The urine is naturally thin, clear, and of a straw color. About three pints of it are passed each day by an adult. The passages should be made without pain, burning or difficulty, and perfectly at will.

When the urine is discolored, thick and scanty, or copious and pale as water, it is plain that the kidneys are not doing their duty. A scalding or burning sensation shows inflammation of the tubes of the neck of the bladder. Stoppage of the flow may indicate gravel or hardening of the kidney. Red, gritty sediment, or whitish stringy settlements in the urine, appearance of blood, pus or shreds, are sure signs that the kidneys need treatment.

In short, the many so-called bladder and urinary troubles are in reality kidney troubles, for the urine comes from the kidneys and the bladder is only a temporary receptacle for it. If the urine shows any one of the disorders mentioned, or if it smells strong or stains the linen, begin using Booth's Kidney Pills, and notice how quickly the disordered appearance will disappear. Continue the treatment until the kidneys have been thoroughly cured, and you will perhaps be saved a serious attack of dropsy, diabetes, gravel or Bright's disease.

SIMPLE WAY TO TEST URINE.

Fill a glass bottle with urine passed just after arising in the morning, and let it stand for twenty-four hours. If there is then a sandy-looking sediment or a cloudy or stringy white settling, your kidneys are diseased and you should begin using Booth's Kidney Pills at once.

Too much or too little urine, frequent desire to pass urine, urine that is unnatural in color, or stains linen, scalding urine and ill-smelling urine, backache, rheumatic pains, puffiness beneath the eyes, depression and languor, are other common symptoms of kidney complaint. The first symptom is sufficient warning. Don't neglect your trouble. Begin at once with Booth's Kidney Pills.

WATCH THE CHILDREN.

The Danger of Children Acquiring Serious Kidney Trouble Should Not be Overlooked. Following Letter from a Mother Appeals to All Mothers.

Mrs. Thos. Jelly, of Chambers Street, Smith's Falls, Ont., says:

"Since infancy my little girl Hazel, age thirteen years, had been troubled with many symptoms of kidney weakness. We spent hundreds of dollars but could not find anyone that understood the trouble. The urine plainly told the cause of the trouble as it was always filled with a heavy, dark sediment of sandlike nature, while very often the secretions were frequent and uncontrollable. Severe pains would come across her back and extend around the sides and abdomen. She became worse and finally with each attack she would become delirious. Her health was very poor and a sallow, yellowish color prominent in her face. Mr. Abbott, the druggist, advised me to try Booth's Kidney Pills and said they were guaranteed to cure or the money would be refunded. I procured them, and we were surprised at the change that had taken place in the first week. The sediment and high color cleared from the urine. She seemed to have a better appetite and looked brighter and better than ever before. We continued treating her with Booth's Kidney Pills and they cured her. She is well and strong, her appetite is good and there is color and health in her cheeks. She does not complain of the slightest trouble and it was Booth's Kidney Pills alone that cured her. I am glad indeed to recommend them, as I believe all mothers should know of such a valuable remedy as Booth's Kidney Pills."

The Salvation Army, one of the most remarkable religious movements in the world, is a great organized body going out into the highways and byways of humanity. It seeks to bring the church to the people rather than merely to urge the people to the church. It has made religion a warm, inspiring reality to thousands; it has been practical, for it has carried the Divine word to the poor, the sinning, the sorrowing and the suffering, and with it has ever extended the hand of human helpfulness, love and brotherhood. Its methods need no vindication; the transformed lives due to its influence are its living monuments.

The new leader of the Army in the United States is a young woman, Eva Booth, the daughter of the venerable General Booth, founder of the organization. Tall, slender, energetic, alert, with a sweet, mellow, far-reaching voice, she strikingly resembles her father, and went to America after her triumphant crusade in Canada with the reputation of being one of the best women orators in the world. She has a strength, sincerity and spiritual fervor that carry her audiences with her and sweep them on waves of religious fervor to higher spirituality.

As a child, with her sweet face and her little jingling tambourine, she ventured into the slums of darkest London and faced without a tremor, degradation she could not understand; but which the sunshine of love she radiated was at last to penetrate and soften. For a time she was compelled to go disguised as a flower girl, but after suffering personal violence more than a hundred times and bravely leading her people where the police rarely ventured and were always needed, she finally triumphed, and to-day the name of Eva Booth is held in reverence in even the worst sections of London.

Through her personal influence obnoxious laws regarding public religious meetings in the streets of England have been repealed, and under her leadership the Army in England calmed the temper of street mobs and vanquished their opposition. She went to Cornwall and talked to workers in the tin mines; undaunted she went into the mines under the sea, with the surf roaring overhead, to visit the sick and dying; she braved her way through all difficulties to fight the battle of temperance and better living. She has held practically every rank in the Army, and in Canada, where she was in command, often traveled bravely through the provinces on snowshoes, preaching to men in the lumber camps.

DROPSY CAN BE CURED BY BOOTH'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Dropsy used to be considered a disease of itself but science has proved it to be a symptom of kidney weakness. When the kidneys are cured, dropsy disappears.

In our food and drink we absorb more water than the body needs.

CAUSE Healthy kidneys drain off this extra water into the bladder—about three pints daily. If the kidneys are unhealthy some of this three pints remains in the body, collecting beneath the skin and in hollow places.

Dropsy is likely to show itself first in puffy patches below the eyes, next in swellings of the ankles and wrists, cold hands and feet. Then the limbs begin to swell and finally the trunk of the body. The swellings are white and the skin tight so that the pressure of a thumb will leave a white dent that fills very slowly.

The danger of dropsy comes when the water begins to collect in the cavity around the heart and in the lungs. Breathing becomes difficult and there is a smothering sensation. The heart pounds like a steam hammer, or flutters irregularly. If the heart is weak, death may result unless quick help is given.

The only sure cure for dropsy is to strengthen and cure the kidneys. Booth's Kidney Pills have cured thousands of cases. They clear the kidneys of clogging impurities, gently stimulate the kidney action, wash out the surplus water into the urine, and restore the kidneys to healthy working order.

Not a single attack of Gravel since using Booth's Kidney Pills.

Gerald FitzGerald, of Lakefield, Ont., says:

"During the four years that I had kidney trouble I passed a large quantity of gravel and sand in the urine. This trouble has been eliminated since using Booth's Kidney Pills and my kidneys are active and well. The matter which used to form into gravel and grit has become natural. I would suffer with an acute pain in the back which would cause me hours of intense agony.

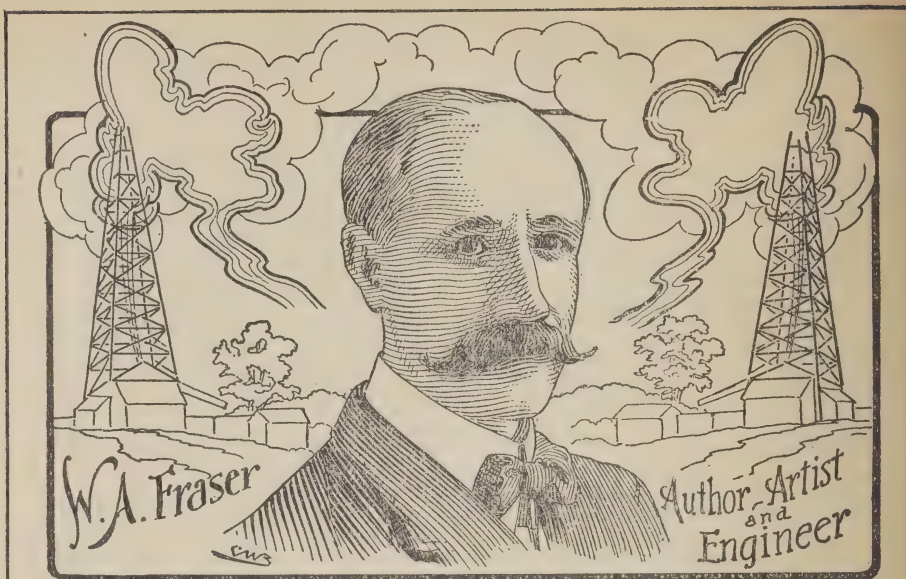

I had all symptoms of kidney trouble—headaches, lassitude and dizziness. I also had rheumatism so badly that I could not walk without a pain. I was advised to try Booth's Kidney Pills by Mr. Tanner, the druggist, and they cured me. I am strong and well again. There is no remaining sign of rheumatism and the urinary disorders were quickly corrected. Booth's Kidney Pills certainly possess great solvent power and alleviate pain as well. I consider them a great kidney tonic and the fact that I haven't had a gravel attack since using them is a strong statement for any remedy."

"For over eight years I suffered from as hard and annoying a case of Kidney Complaint as any one could and live and tell the story," are the words of Mr. Carscadden.

Joseph Carscadden, of Maple Street, Collingwood, Ont., says:

"Booth's Kidney Pills, procured at the Jury & Gregory drug store made a new man of me. For over eight years I had suffered from as hard and annoying a case of kidney complaint as any person could and live to tell the story. The kidney action and secretions were weak and got me up from five to six times each night. This brought on severe pains over the loins and kidney region and a lame, sore and weak back. I doctored and used several remedies but got relief for a short time only from the doctor's medicine. Receiving no benefit but rather an increase in my case, I was casting about for relief when Booth's Kidney Pills came to my notice, and I resolved to try them. I am now very thankful that I did. Their use went right to the seat of my trouble, and in less than a week the kidney action was made normal. The hard aches and pains left me. I am much stronger and more vigorous than before using Booth's Kidney Pills and can work. The Booth Company's representative found me drawing wood when it was raining quite hard, and all this rugged, healthy condition is due to Booth's Kidney Pills. I give them full credit for the cure."

Knowing the life of William A. Fraser, the books he has written seem inevitable. Each is the harvesting of certain distinct years of his living; renewed, revived and transformed by his individuality. His books are himself; he writes because he loves to write, because he cannot help writing.

Born in Nova Scotia in 1859 of Scotch parentage, his early school days were spent in Boston and later in New York. His unusual artistic ability early became manifest, and it seemed that he was destined for a sculptor's life, but the death of his father changed his plans. He now paints scenes in his novels in vocabularic colors instead of with a brush. It was with regret that he temporarily gave up the oils of art for the oil of commerce and made a specialty of petroleum; but he was thorough and a second time mastered oil.

In 1881 he went to India as an expert for some English capitalists, and later the British Government employed him on some mission in Beluchistan. Nine years he spent in India, Burma and the neighboring countries, not studying the country idly from an armchair, but in nine years of constant travel, where he saw everything and forgot nothing, and it is the splendid fruitage of these years that is garnered in his stories of India.

In 1889 he returned to Boston and married Miss Barber of Toronto, and the year following went back with his wife for an eight months' stay in the Orient. On returning to Canada he settled in Toronto and for six years went each summer surveying and doing other engineering work in the Northwest. It was far away from the whirl of humanity; lonely, often having no roof but the starry sky, no bed but his blanket, no restaurant but his pouch. He met trappers and guides sometimes, grew to know and love the animals better, and his splendid stories of Canadian life and charmingly sympathetic animal stories would never have been written for but the payment of price in months of isolation. His first story was published in the "Detroit Free Press," and a few others soon afterward gave him that first rich taste of literary creation. He went each year to the Northwest with greater reluctance as it cut out his time for writing, until finally reluctance led to rebellion and then to revolt, and he turned his back on it all forever and consecrated his life to literature and art. Mr. Fraser has had the honor of having his paintings hung on the line with the work of professional artists.

Why Women Suffer

WHEN WOMEN SUFFER.

In Most Cases the Kidneys are Weak.

Women have so much to go through in life that it is a pity for so many to suffer needless backache, headache, dizziness, languor and other common aches and ills of disordered kidneys.

Booth's Kidney Pills have brought new life and strength to thousands of women by curing the kidneys.

Unfortunately, most women look upon backache, bearing-down pains, urinary disorders, fits of blues, swelling of the ankles and limbs and nervousness, as troubles peculiar to their sex, that must be endured as part of a woman's lot.

If you suffer thus, don't worry about it; suspect your kidneys first. Men have the same queer aches and ills when the kidneys are sick. And women are more likely to have weak kidneys. Monthly periods, change of life, and pregnancy are hard on the kidneys, and the confining work a woman does, the tight, heavy clothing she wears, the cares and worries of rearing children, are all trying.

It is a woman's duty to herself and to her family to notice the first signs of kidney sickness and to give the weakened kidneys prompt help. Booth's Kidney Pills promptly relieve and permanently cure sick kidneys. Read the statements of women in this book.

PRONOUNCED INCURABLE.

Don't Give Up Hope when Symptoms of Bright's Disease Prevail. Booth's Kidney Pills Record Many Cures Similar to that of Mrs. Duncan.

Mrs. R. Duncan, of 115 McDonnel Street, Peterboro, Ont., says:

"Some thirteen years ago I suffered with a severe attack of La Grippe that had until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced Bright's disease and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I had become so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at the Market drug store and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used five boxes of the remedy and I have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

NOTE.—Booth's Kidney Pills are not guaranteed to cure Bright's disease, but they do make a great number of cures with cases said to be Bright's disease. It would seem they are always well worth a trial.

RHEUMATISM

Seldom Annoys a Person with Sound Kidneys.

Healthy kidneys are the best safeguard against rheumatism. By clearing the blood of uric acid well kidneys keep driving off the most common cause of rheumatic pains in muscles or joints, sciatica, lumbago, gout, etc. Booth's Kidney Pills have cured many stubborn cases of rheumatism that doctors could not even relieve. This success is due to the one fact alone, that Booth's Kidney Pills restore disordered kidneys to good working order.

One of the most magnificent country houses in the United States is Georgian Court, at the head of the beautiful lake Carasaljo, among the tall, straight kingly pines of Lakewood, N. J., and the wife and mother who makes this palace a home is Mrs. George Gould, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kingdom, formerly of Toronto.

The beautiful Edith Kingdom, after completing her education in England, adopted the stage as a career, and her talent, grace, charm and presence were winning recognition when in 1886 she was married to George Gould, the millionaire railway owner, and son of Jay Gould, at one time America's leading financier. Mrs. Gould soon became one of the most popular of the younger society women of the country and a leader in the world of fashion. Beautiful is the house in which she lives, but far more beautiful is the atmosphere of love, sweetness and companionship that fills the home with sunshine and happiness. Mrs. Gould is a model mother to her six children, a devoted companion, confidant and friend.

The Goulds are practically the only members of the ultra-fashionable set who reside in the country the year round. Georgian Court, built of light gray brick and terra cotta in the style of the French Renaissance, lies in beautiful grounds rendered exclusive by a high fence of wrought iron with bases and interspersed posts of gray stone to match the house. The stables, harmonizing in architecture with the mansion itself, are stocked with horses of every description for the family and guests.

Over the stables is the theatre, a dainty bijou playhouse, complete in every detail, furnished in dark red and gold and seating about 125. The Casino, devoted primarily to sport, has a special race-track, a great plunge swimming tank, courts for all games, and about forty bedrooms and half as many bathrooms, to be used when a large house-party overtakes the hospitality of the mansion. The Sunken Garden, which is sixty feet in width and 120 feet in length, is floored and walled with flawless marble, and fine sculpture peeping from a dark background of evergreen shrubs and bushes, is reflected in the clear waters of a lagoon. Near by, too, is the wonderful electric fountain, sixty feet in diameter, of white marble; the center piece consisting of a colossal Nautilus shell of bronze, forming a chariot on which stands the heroic statue of a man driving a pair of purest marble sea horses.

GRAVEL AND STONE.

Painful—Dangerous.

On another page we have shown you how uric acid, when circulated freely in the body, upsets the vital organs and causes many different forms of pain, illness and suffering.

The most common action of uric acid, however, is its formation, with lime, into grains or small pebbles in the kidneys. This is called gravel.

Grains of solid matter are first seen as sediment in the urine. If a vessel is used, the bottom becomes coated with a reddish-brown, sandy deposit, so thick it has to be scraped off.

As the disease progresses, the grains are bigger, so big that they pass with difficulty through the ureters, and with spasms of awful pain. It may then pass from the bladder, or remain there, adding new thickness until so large it cannot be removed without a costly and painful operation. That is stone in the bladder.

The gravest danger, however, is the formation of a stone in the kidney, too big to pass out, clogging the passage, holding back the urine, preventing the work of the kidney, and endangering life itself.

Booth's Kidney Pills have a most wonderful effect on gravel or stone. In many cases that we have recorded, the stone has been dislodged, crumbled and passed off in gritty powder, without pain. By curing the kidneys, this remedy stops the formation of gravel, the uric acid passing off in perfect solution in the urine.

A SIMPLE TEST.

You have backache, weak back or lame back, and don't know just why. Likely it's your kidneys. They lie on either side of the spine, in the small of the back. Just press your thumbs against the kidneys. Is there a feeling of soreness or tenderness? If there is, you need guess about it no longer. Use Booth's Kidney Pills right away, for your kidneys are sick and must have quick help.

INTENSE AGONY FROM GRAVEL.

See statement (on page 9) of Gerald Fitz-Gerald, Lakefield, Ont., who was cured by Booth's Kidney Pills after suffering for four years with gravel and sandy deposits that caused acute pain and intense agony.

WAS THE DOCTOR MISTAKEN?

To Determine when Bright's Disease is Present is often Puzzling. That Booth's

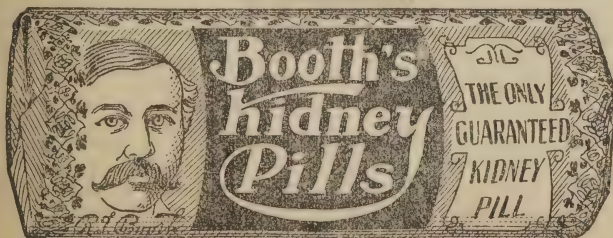

Kidney Pills Fight Many of its So-called Symptoms Every Inch of the Way is Sure.

Mrs. W. A. McLenaghan, of Foster Street, Perth, Ont., says:

"For over two years I had suffered constantly with kidney trouble. Doctors had termed it Bright's disease, and had failed to benefit my miserable condition. The kidney secretions were so frequent that I had to leave my bed several times each night. Through loss of sleep I became nervous and weak, and was so tired and languid that I could scarcely get around. There was a very painful swelling in my ankles and rheumatic pains settled in my knees.

The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of brick-dust sediment. Headaches and dizzy spells were almost constant, and spots would dazzle before my eyes, leaving me unable to see. I was advised by a friend to try Booth's Kidney Pills. Procuring a box at Mr. Robinson's drug store, I commenced treatment and soon found relief. The first box of this remedy did me more good than all else I had used. I continued the treatment and in less than six weeks I was without a sign of the dread disease and have had little or no trouble since."

PRICE, 50 CENTS.

When Jacob Gould Schurman was a boy on his father's backwoods farm on Prince Edward Island, where he was born in 1854, educational advantages were scant in quality and costly in time and energy. Books were few, the one newspaper that connected the family with the outside world was but a provincial weekly, and the district school was taught by one teacher who gave the staple things of education, with no fancy dishes of the modern class.

When Jacob was thirteen he had to become self-supporting, and secured a clerkship of the general utility type in a country store at thirty dollars a year and his board and washing. In his second year he received sixty dollars, and with this coming of wealth came a longing for a better education.

In two years he had saved eighty dollars and with this as a bulwark against starvation he attended the village high school, studied voraciously day and night, and entered a competitive examination for a scholarship at Prince of Wales College at Charlottetown, on the island. He won the scholarship of sixty dollars and went to the college. Then after a year of teaching he went to Acadia College, where his appetite for prize-winning became insatiable. He won a scholarship of $500 a year for three years offered by the University of London, followed by his winning the traveling fellowship of the Hibbert Society, and other prizes, scholarships and similar rewards, with predestined certainty and monotonous iteration.

He studied at London, Paris, Edinburgh, Berlin, Göttingen, and half a dozen other cities, and when six or seven nations had given him all they could supply, but not nearly all he could absorb, he returned to Canada as professor in one of the colleges.

In 1885 Andrew D. White recommended him to Cornell, and the year following, at the age of thirty-two, he became head of the Department of Philosophy; in 1891 was made Dean of the Sage School of Philosophy, and in 1892 he received the degree of Doctor of Laws from Edinburgh University and became president of Cornell, being the only man even considered for a moment for the position.

Dr. Schurman is remarkable as a lecturer, broad and liberal as a teacher, searching for truth with his students rather than giving them his opinions as finalities; sincere and thorough as an investigator; clear, eloquent and effective as an orator; simple and direct as an author; and as a man, popular, magnetic, sympathetic, sterling and broad gauge.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH OF THE KIDNEYS.

This condition results either from colds or from overwork of the kidneys in separating from the blood the poisons that have been absorbed from catarrh.

- "Is the skin pale and dry?"
- "Is your hair getting gray?"
- "Has the skin a waxy look?"
- "Is the hair dry and brittle?"
- "Is the skin dry and harsh?"
- "Do the legs feel too heavy?"
- "Is there nausea after eating?"
- "Do the joints pain and ache?"
- "Are they cold and clammy?"
- "Is the urine dark and cloudy?"
- "Are the eyes dull and staring?"
- "Is there pain in small of back?"
- "Do your hands and feet swell?"
- "Have you pains in top of head?"
- "Has the perspiration a bad odor?"
- "Is there puffiness under the eyes?"
- "Is there a bad taste in the mouth?"
- "Is there a desire to get up at night?"
- "Are there dark rings around the eyes?"
- "Have you chilly feelings down the back?"
- "Do you see spots floating before the eyes?"
- "Do you see unpleasant things while asleep?"
- "Does a deposit form in urine when left standing?"

These symptoms should receive prompt attention and no medicine is so well adapted to the affliction as Booth's Kidney Pills. Their regular and persistent use will overcome the trouble, though it may be of long standing.

PROLONG LIFE.

Weak Kidneys Make Old Age a Burden.

With healthy, active kidneys one has a better chance to live long. Weak kidneys afflict old age with great discomforts. The back is crooked and lame, rheumatic pains more frequent, the eyes fail, and too frequent or involuntary passages of the urine cause embarrassment by day and loss of sleep at night. Booth's Kidney Pills are a great help to old folks. They bring new strength to worn-out kidneys, banish back-ache and rheumatic pain and regulate the bladder and urine. It is often noticed that the eyesight improves when the kidneys are made well.

When past middle age, it is a good plan to help the kidneys periodically by a course of treatment with Booth's Kidney Pills.

INCURABLE, 'T WAS SAID.

Bent With Pain—Every Muscle Sore and Stiff—"Made Like a New Man," says a Flesherton, Ont., Citizen.

S. B. Cole, of Flesherton, Ont., says:

"For many years I have been a sufferer from many symptoms of Bright's disease, and although I had tried numerous doctors in different parts of the country, and used every remedy that I could find, there was no relief for me. The kidney secretions were frequent during the night and I would leave my bed from twelve to fifteen times. The urine was highly colored, scant and scalding, and my health through this alone had been greatly wrecked. I was nervous and restless and my appetite was very poor. I would be unable to stoop or straighten myself up for the severe pains that would shoot through my back in the region of the kidneys. Every muscle in my whole body was sore and stiff. I was gradually becoming worse and doctors had pronounced me incurable. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement and procuring a box at Mr. Richardson's pharmacy, I had used only the first half of the box when I noticed the kidney secretions were lessening. I continued Booth's Kidney Pills and after using two boxes I could enjoy my night's rest without once being disturbed. The urine gradually cleared. The scalding left it. The quantity became normal and my general health began to improve rapidly. The soreness has left my muscles and my back is stronger than it has been in years. My appetite has returned and I am like a new man in every respect. Booth's Kidney Pills gave me this speedy cure when all else had failed to relieve me, and I will always speak highly of their wonderful merits."

At her grandfather's house in Milton, Nova Scotia, Miss Saunders was born in 1861, the daughter of a clergyman, and a descendant of the John Alden immortalized in verse by Longfellow. Her early days were spent in the beautiful land of Evangeline where the very air seems redolent of romance and historic memories. When she was six the family moved to Halifax, and there she received the foundation of her education in private and public schools until fifteen, when she was sent to a boarding school in Scotland and thence to France, to put some finishing touches to her education.

On her return to Nova Scotia she taught school for a time and then drifted into literature. Her first short story brought forty dollars, but she soon realized that real success could not be plucked like a rose in a garden; she must pay the price in years of observation, study, training and practice. She spent several years in foreign travel as a post-graduate course in experience, and then returned to Nova Scotia.

In 1894 the American Humane Educational Society offered a prize of $200 for the best story illustrating kindness to dumb animals. Miss Saunders determined to compete for it. She spent six months in writing a story, the background of which was largely autobiographic and the spirit pervading it her own intense love for animals, the silent appeal of their helplessness finding ever a sympathetic echo in her heart. The committee of award in giving the prize to her book "Beautiful Joe," said: "The author has genius, heart and insight. It is an admirable story and should become a standard for all libraries." And yet this sweet, sympathetic study of dog life, despite its splendid endorsement, went begging among the publishers for six months before it was accepted, Miss Saunders having availed herself of the privilege of forfeiting the prize money and retaining her manuscript.

When published it gave her a place in the very front rank of writers of animal stories. Her "Tilda Jane," a simple, natural, pathetic yet humorous story, adds a new character to the charming literature of childhood. In her ambitious novel "Rose à Charlitte," she gives a delightful portrayal of the life of the Acadians in the historic country around St. Mary's Bay, a realm of idyllic romance, where trials and sorrows seemed to sanctify and purify the people to higher things.

IS YOUR STOMACH AILING?

SIGNS THAT TELL.

Mi-o-na means stomach comfort.

Mi-o-na is put up in a decorated tin box, of which the above is a photograph, as sold by Druggists and Dealers.

Is there a feeling that the heart has not room to work right and a kind of indescribable smothering pressure that brings you out of a nightmare sleep with a start?

Is there palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells, faintness, mind confusion, disturbed vision?

Do you get up in the morning tired and unrested, with energy and ambition dulled for ordinary work or pleasure?

If your tongue is coated, if you are subject to night sweats, cold hands and feet, sick headache, dry skin, nausea, drowsiness, sleeplessness—faulty stomach action is responsible.

In fact, if you have any of the above symptoms, make up your mind at once that the stomach needs help, and commence at once with Mi-o-na. Its purity is guaranteed. Its curative properties are guaranteed to reach your case, or you get all the money back you pay for it.

A Physician Certifies to the Purity and Value of MI-O-NA.

This is to certify that the formula of the MI-O-NA stomach tablets, as prepared by the R. T. Booth Co., was submitted to me some two years ago. The ingredients entering into their composition and method of manufacture make them an ideal remedy for stomach ailments. MI-O-NA does not contain any drug of a habit-forming nature. I have personally noted its action in many cases with gratifying results. The methods adopted in the manufacture of MI-O-NA are such as to insure an even standard of strength and purity, and it is surely a remedy for stomach medication of unusual worth.

W. Polonsky, M.D.

Is there uneasiness at the stomach that causes discomfort when awake and restless tossing about during sleep?

Is there a sensation of weight or heaviness at pit of stomach, usually most oppressive after meals?

Does your food sour and rise from your stomach, almost burning the throat, and a bitter sickening taste?

Is there a feeling as though the stomach was crowded and distended by formation of gas?

Do you sometimes find it impossible to suppress a partial hiccough or gulping up?

THE WAY OF THE STOMACH.

It's not the fuel in the stove that makes the heat, but the burning of it.

It's not what you eat that gives you enjoyable strength and health; but it's what the stomach does with it. Think for a minute that it is the receiving station for everything you eat and drink of things that are good and things that are bad for it. No wonder that the burden often becomes unbearable and it rebels.

Then again it is the clearing house for that important part of the human body, the Alimentary System. Food reaches the stomach as a raw material to go through the process of preparation for blood, nerve, bone and muscle nutriment. If this process is faulty, and the contents of the stomach is only half cleared, it will be impossible to realize the requirements of Nature, and you begin to feel out of sorts because the feeding process of the whole system has started in wrong. There is no way station where imperfect stomach work can be corrected, and as a consequence the blood becomes thin, weak, and does not carry to the other organs elements of strength, vigor and increased vitality, but it rather becomes a moving stream impregnated with impurities that make sickness. Just how bad depends upon the individual resistance that each constitution makes. What would be only temporary and quickly overcome with the usually robust and strong, may prove fatal by neglect, with the weak and debilitated. In any case when you find yourself going down from the average of health, lay the fault to the stomach. Nearly always you will find it the "Fountain Head" of the trouble, and so soon as it receives Mi-o-na help, you will begin to pick up, feel better, get stronger, and once more fit for your work and to enjoy life.

Mi-o-na means stomach help of a kind only known to Mi-o-na. The great praise that makes it "Famous" is earned praise. The reason for it is simple. It is not designed to act like the Dyspepsia Medicines which you read about as powerful enough to disinfect and dissolve the food; Mi-o-na acts on an altogether different plan. It freshens and strengthens the glands and mucous membrane of the stomach and enables the digestive organs to act in the way Nature intended they should. It brings about the supply of stomach juices necessary to dissolve and digest food masses. Any one can understand that a medicine can be loaded with drugs powerful enough to dissolve almost anything, but drugs cannot digest food, dissolving is not digesting, any more than mincing or hashing of meat is cooking it. Right here it is well to consider that a stomach remedy depending upon food dissolving, by drugs, is likely to carry an undesirable heaviness in some drug that will set up an after effect. How much more reasonable is the Mi-o-na way of not trying to act on the food but by making the stomach do its work and do it well. It is in this way that Mi-o-na overcomes distress after eating, belching or gases and undigested food, bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, headache, variable appetite, heartburn, heaviness and dizziness, sick headache, fitful appetite, etc., and a general feeling of despondency, weakness and debility. Mi-o-na is not taken after meals, always before meals. It prompts the stomach and makes it ready for the work that is coming. Mi-o-na is guaranteed as to the purity of its ingredients, freedom from injurious drugs, and it also carries an unqualified guarantee that money will be refunded if benefit is not gained by its use.

OUTPOURINGS OF A WOMAN'S HEART.

Writes a Grateful Letter that Every Sufferer from Dyspepsia or Stomach Disorders Ought to Read.

After Having a Doctor Every Week and Taking Doctor's Medicine All the Time for Years.

NOW MADE WELL AND STRONG BY MI-O-NA.

To the Editor of Booth's Sketches:

I am an advertising man with fifteen years experience, as you probably know. I have written copy for many progressive, successful and honorable firms, corporations and companies. But when the makers of Mi-o-na (which I believe from personal experience to be the only proprietary cure for dyspepsia or any other torturing stomach ailment) asked me to write an article for Booth's Sketches so that the people of America might know of the marvelous and mighty healing virtues of Mi-o-na tablets, and sent me the testimonial of Mrs. Vanaman to be published with the article, I am willing to confess that all I might write would not improve her simple statement.

Did you ever in all your busy life read such an honest and sincere letter as Mrs. Vanaman's? It is the conscientious outpouring of a grateful heart, and one has but to read to know that every word in this sincere letter is absolute truth.

I frankly admit that I cannot write so good, so sincere an advertisement as the thankful letter of Mrs. Vanaman, so I am going to let you print it just as it was written.

All I can add is that Mi-o-na is sold for 50 cents a box, with a guarantee from the makers to cure dyspepsia, sea or car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, effects of "the night before," and all stomach ills, or money back.

Here is Mrs. Vanaman's letter, and everyone, dyspeptic or otherwise, should read it. Such sincerity is unusual. She writes:

"I have been having stomach trouble for some years, and two years ago I had a very bad attack of acute indigestion. These last years I had to call a doctor every week, besides taking doctor's medicine all the time. My food would ferment, and there was so much gas in my stomach I couldn't vomit, and the doctor had to work for over an hour before I could get relief. Doctor put me on diet for over one year, and I guess I have tried every doctor in town. They all told me it would take one year to get well, providing I just ate a milk diet. That was the encouragement they gave me. I could not do my work; had to have a girl. So weak at times could not get up or down stairs. I tried everything I heard of. At last I saw Mi-o-na advertised, and thought I would try that. I didn't have any faith in it whatever. After taking half a box, that was the last time I have had to have a doctor for indigestion; that has been five months ago.

"I eat everything I want, drink coffee, eat cabbage, ham, fried potatoes—everything doctor said not to eat or I would die.

"I do all my work, washing and all. We have four in the family, also a large house that requires lots of work, and I do every bit myself. I cannot realize that I am the same woman.

"I take pleasure in recommending Mi-o-na to my friends, and when I hear of anyone suffering with stomach trouble in any form, I tell them just what it has done for me, and give them some tablets to try. I would not dare be without Mi-o-na in the house. WHY, I SHOULD BE DEAD IF IT WASN'T FOR MI-O-NA.

"One year ago I only weighed 100 lbs.; now my weight is 159 lbs., good weight. I feel I cannot praise your medicine enough. I hope you will pardon this long letter. Thanking you for your valuable time. If there is anything in this letter you can make a testimonial of, you are welcome to use my name."—Mrs. Carrie Vanaman, No. 76 S. E. Ave., Bridgeton, N. J.

Every great landscape artist is both a poet and a painter. The imagination, the intuition, the interpretation, the sympathy, the reverence, the love, kinship and communion with Nature of the poet, filtering through the mind of the artist find their medium of expression in brush and colors.

One feels this strongly in the presence of Homer Watson's paintings. They are never photographic, but are always strongly individual interpretations. Whether it be a rough sea with the dancing fisher-boats under a dull, rain-filled sky, the white mill catching the high lights with its background of foliage, the lone rider bent over his horse plodding along a rain-washed road, some noble monarch forest tree braving the elements, or his interpretations of any other moods of Nature, one always feels the sentiment, the richness of color, the atmosphere, the glow, the feeling—all seem parts of a single effect. The dainty daubs of detail characteristic of some painters find no place in Mr. Watson's work; it is ever bold, rugged, broad in treatment, breathing vigor and vitality.

Homer Watson was born in the little village of Doon, on Grand River, Ont., in 1836, and as a boy at school showed his natural instinct for art when he surreptitiously drew on his slate an over-vivid picture of the strong and peculiar features of his teacher, which drew upon him deserved punishment. He seemed to turn naturally to landscape work, and his first large painting "The Pioneer Mill," which appeared at the first exhibition of the Royal Canadian Academy was purchased by the Marquis of Lorne, and now hangs in a place of honor in Windsor Castle.

Mr. Watson has exhibited at the Academy in England, the New Gallery, the New English Art Club, the Glasgow Institute, and at International Expositions, and been honored by one-man exhibitions where thirty or more of his paintings were hung together, thus enabling one to study comparatively the range of his work. He makes almost annual trips to England, but loves Canada, her scenes and her people too well to take up permanent residence abroad. It is always dangerous to compare the work with another as it may carry with it a suggestion of imitation which would be unjust to one whose work is so individual as Mr. Watson's; but the critics in their appreciation of his paintings couple his name with Corot, Constable, Diaz, Rosseau and Courbet—great masters with whom Canada's painter may feel honored to be classed.

STARTLING STATEMENTS.

Terrible Stomach Distress. "It seemed as though I could not breathe again. Blind falling spells, with a feeling there was not enough air in the world for me to breathe."

What Mi-o-na did for a Prominent Man in Wyoming, Ont.

Mr. William Barnes, of Plympton Street, Wyoming, Ont., says:

"I have suffered with stomach trouble and dyspepsia for over eleven years, and believe that I had every ailment, pain and bad feeling that these diseases are capable of producing in any human being. There was a continual gnawing or distress and pain in my stomach, and this was much more acute after eating. The food that I took would not digest but would sour and ferment, and produce gas that made a pressure on my heart, and many times I expected to die, for it did not seem as if I could ever breathe again and as if there was not enough air in the entire world for me to breathe. I had feelings come over me that were sort of blind spells, when I would fall down in the bottom of the buggy while driving. My stomach would feel as if it was not large enough to contain a single particle of food, no matter how small. The stomach (diaphragm) was distended and my bowels terribly constipated. I doctored and doctored again, but got worse instead of better, and became about discouraged at my condition. While visiting my daughter about seven months ago, she gave me a box of Mi-o-na and beseeched me to try it, which I did, and I was much surprised but grateful at the result, for, to make a long story short, I was cured by the use of this wonderful remedy. I only used a few boxes, but since using have been entirely well and now eat all I want and what I want, and there is no trouble whatever with my stomach or bowels. You can refer any person to me regarding these facts, as I am strong on Mi-o-na and give to it entire credit for my cure."

NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR.

Neil Murray of Huron Road, Goderich, Ont., says:

"I suffered with indigestion for over four years and had been given over as incurable by many doctors. I had become a nervous wreck through loss of sleep, and whatever I eat did not remain on my stomach for over two hours. I would suffer with vomiting spells that would almost kill me, perspiration as large as beads would break out all over my body and leave me in so weakened a condition that I would be unable to stand, not a night's rest in over six months and was so weakened and run down that my family thought I would die. My heart was greatly weakened and would flutter and a sharp pain would come through me and cut off my breath. I was reduced in weight from 150 to less than 110 pounds. Doctors would give different causes for my trouble, yet none of them gave me the slightest relief. I commenced treatment with Mi-o-na and when one-half of the first box was used I could eat my meals without suffering the dreadful vomiting spells. I used about ten boxes in all, and I am entirely cured. My stomach is as strong as ever and there is not the slightest trouble with digestion. I have gained about 40 pounds in weight, am strong and healthy and like a new man. I will always speak highly of Mi-o-na, as it cured and I believe kept me from sure death when all else had failed."

Such evidence as above tells the story why Mi-o-na can be sold successfully with guarantee of satisfaction or "money back." It's the only stomach remedy that can.

PEPSIN DOSED DYSPEPTICS.

Pepsin Never Cured Indigestion, and Never will—the Principle is Wrong—the Cart is Before the Horse.

There is only one way to cure indigestion and all other stomach ailments, and that is to make the stomach strong enough to digest its food, exactly the work that Nature intended it should do.

The Mi-o-na method (Mi-o-na tablets) will put energy, strength and elasticity into a flabby, worn out stomach in a few weeks, and make it strong enough to perfectly digest all kinds of food.

Pepsin may, after meals, relieve some of the distress of indigestion, because it acts as a mere solvent for meats and other animal foods. It does not digest, and has no effect whatever upon starchy foods, such as potatoes, bread, rice, oatmeal, etc., and the vast majority of dyspeptics suffer from inability to digest starchy foods.

The only way to cure stomach diseases is to build up, strengthen and put new energy into the stomach, so that it will be its own digester.

And that is exactly what Mi-o-na tablets will do—they are taken before meals, not after, and their powerful tonic properties act directly upon the stomach, coaxes its dormant walls into activity and in a few weeks make it strong enough and healthy enough to digest all kinds of food.

It's Statements Like that of H. Heyman, Kingston, Ont., that is Making Mi-o-na World Famous for Obstinate Stomach Complaints.

Mr. H. Heyman, 132 Colborne Street, Kingston, Ont., says:

"Mi-o-na is unequaled as a remedy to quickly cure long-standing cases of dyspepsia. For years I suffered with my stomach and could find no cure nor even relief. I could not eat anything, as it would sour and form gas on my stomach that had a pressure on the heart. Heavy pains would come around my sides and pit of my stomach. I was unable to sleep and there was nothing to relieve my misery. I was weak, languid and would feel as tired in the morning as on going to bed, perspiration would break out all over my body. I would be so weak from vomiting that I would fall to my knees. My head would ache and spells of dizziness would leave me unable to see. Doctors had termed the trouble gastritis, but failed to benefit me. I tried Mi-o-na on advice of a friend. It cured me when all else failed. I am sound and well and feel grateful to Mi-o-na for my present health.

"It's the known results obtained by Mi-o-na that places it far and away above all other remedies in the cure of stomach trouble."

From a Nervous Dyspeptic Wreck to Perfect Health in Six Months—

"Mi-o-na Did it," says Mr. Johnstone.

"Three years ago I began to suffer from dyspepsia of the rankest kind. My physician gave me temporary relief but in a few weeks another attack seized me ten times more violent than the first. Canker sores formed in my mouth, which the doctor burned every morning; later they attacked my tongue, which got so bad it cracked open in two places with suppurated holes large enough to stick in the end of a lead pencil. For weeks I lived on nothing but a liquid diet and finally became so nervous and irritable that I had to give up business and despaired of ever getting well. In a few days from the time I was induced to try Mi-o-na my stomach became easier, less wind, belching and distress. In two weeks the mouth soreness began to leave me, the thick white coating that had been on my tongue for two years vanished, soon the night sweats and headaches disappeared, sores left my mouth, the holes in my tongue filled up and to-day it is clean as a hound's tooth. From a nervous dyspeptic sufferer Mi-o-na has transformed me in six months into a healthy man, which I will be pleased to verify by personal letter to any inquiry."

BOOTH'S LAXATIVE

(LITTLE BLACK PILLS).

An Absolute Cure for Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness and Liver Troubles.

Booth's Laxative (in the form of a little black pill) is a marvelous combination of vegetable remedies that cure all diseases of the liver and bowels by a newly-discovered principle.

It combines the best laxatives with harmless ingredients that restore the liver and bowels to normal and healthy action, making complete and lasting cures in the worst cases of constipation, sick headache, biliousness, vertigo, and all liver troubles.

There is no griping when Booth's Laxative is used. Its action is sure, easy and positive.

Booth's Laxative embodies the latest discoveries of science in the treatment of constipation and liver diseases. It is as great an improvement over the old-fashioned pills as electricity is superior to the candle. Keep up with the times in medicine as well as in all other ways, and use Booth's Laxative.

Booth's Laxative is designed to act in harmony with Booth's Kidney Pills and Miona Stomach Tablets, and should always be used in connection with the Kidney Pills and Miona when constipation is present.

The artist who was commissioned by the Canadian Government to paint the portraits of King Edward and Queen Alexandra for the Dominion House of Parliament, and who was honored with sittings by their Majesties, is John Colin Forbes, who has a long trail of successes.

Born in Toronto of Scotch-English parents, he was educated at Upper Canada College in his native city, and at an early age showed the first faint dawnings of his artistic genius. He was entirely self-taught, following with the sure instinct of true power along the lines of natural development, and silently working out his own destiny until he produced his first real work, a portrait of his father. This revealed so commanding an exhibit of his ability that he was sent to study at the South Kensington Museum and later at the Royal Academy in London. One of his first paintings, a marine view called "Toronto Bay," took a first prize at the Provincial Exhibition in 1866, and he later painted a number of portraits that added greatly to his fame, notably those of Lord Dufferin, Sir John Macdonald, Alexander MacKenzie, Edward Blake, Sir Charles Tupper and Lady Helen Blackwood.

In 1881 he was elected to the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts and five years later painted for the Canadian Pacific R. R. a series of pictures which reproduced some of the masterpieces of Nature's painting and sculpture in the wild romantic Canadian Rockies, where Titanic mountains, deep gorges, great expanses of scenery are shown in a color scheme of Nature at her best. These gave him themes that filled his artistic soul with joy. Those who are familiar with his paintings "The Cañon in the Royal Gorge," "The Mount of the Holy Cross," "Mount Stephen," and the "Glacier of the Selkirk," must ever carry with them the memory of their majestic beauty and power. In 1891 members of the Canadian Liberal party sent him to England to paint a full-length portrait of Gladstone for the National Liberal Club of London. For the past few years much of his work has been done in the United States.

Fire and water have been merciless in their pursuit of Mr. Forbes. When the steamer "Hibernia" went down in mid-ocean in 1868 it carried with it some of his best paintings and he barely escaped with his life, and his famous painting of the wreck was destroyed by fire in 1879. In three later fires the work of years fed the flames.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in year 1904, by W. C. Mack, at Dept. of Agriculture.

ARE YOU A CATARRH SUFFERER?

Do You Know That Hyomei (Pronounced High-o-me) is Guaranteed By Us to Cure Catarrh or Money Back.

What is Hyomei?

It is a concentrated extract from the pine and eucalyptus forests of Australia.

This powerful, yet most pleasant and antiseptic, extract is sold by all druggists. When you first start to use Hyomei you must purchase a complete outfit, which costs one dollar. This outfit consists of a bottle of Hyomei, a hard rubber pocket inhaler same as illustration and simple instructions for use.

To begin treatment all that is necessary is to pour a few drops into the inhaler and breathe it in. As the air you breathe passes through the Hyomei saturated inhaler it becomes permeated with Hyomei and passes into the lungs a dry healing antiseptic air which the germs that infest the membrane of the nose and throat cannot resist and are soon destroyed.

Hyomei cures catarrh by killing the germs; it reaches the inflamed parts as no other remedy can do. It is pleasant to use and is recommended by thousands who have destroyed the deadly germs and cured catarrh by its use.

Discovery of Hyomei.

Hyomei was discovered by Richard T. Booth, who was an ardent temperance worker and speaker, and a warm personal friend of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, Rev. Newman Hall and Canon Basil Wilberforce.

After years of strenuous speaking before large audiences, during which time he made over a million converts to the cause of temperance. Mr. Booth broke down with serious catarrhal troubles. A sojourn of six months in the south of France on the advice of a physician failed to give any relief and he returned to England with symptoms of consumption.

Sir Andrew Clark, at that time Mr. Gladstone's medical adviser, insisted on Mr. Booth's going to the inland forests of Australia, which he did, and at the end of twelve months returned to England a well man, and has never since had catarrhal symptoms.

The above Inhaler is enclosed with each $1.00 outfit of Booth's Hyomei.

Mr. Booth realized that it was the air he breathed with its peculiar antiseptic properties that cured him and he furthermore learned that inhabitants of that section were free from catarrhal and pulmonary disease.

Realizing that millions of sufferers could not afford to go to Australia to breathe the antiseptic air and get rid of catarrh he hit upon the idea of bringing the air to the sufferers.

This result he actually accomplished after years of constant research and experiment and to-day every sufferer from catarrh or any pulmonary disease can enjoy the mighty powerful healing air of Australia at home by using Hyomei.

Hyomei is guaranteed to cure; it is the only practical plan. Stomach dosing, snuffs, spray and the like never reach the germ-ridden parts.

ASTHMA.

To one who is suffering with asthma there is no need of our describing the symptoms, but we have known so many cases of asthma cured with Hyomei that we are perfectly willing to sell it in the same manner to asthmatics as to those who wish to use it for catarrh—that is to return the money if it does not give satisfaction.

It will at least greatly relieve the distress and suffering in most obstinate cases.

WHEN HOPE HAS LEFT

Bronchial Coughs

are stopped in twenty minutes and cured in two days by simply inhaling Hyomei a few minutes every hour.

It soothes the inflamed membrane and removes the irritation.

Irritating Coughs

which keep you awake all night are relieved in ten minutes and cured before morning by placing twenty drops of Hyomei on a piece of flannel and pinning to the night robe on retiring.

A little thing, but it prevents much suffering.

Croup Coughs

are stopped in thirty minutes after the first inhalation of Hyomei. The child drops into a peaceful sleep and wakens in the morning free from the disease.

Hyomei is the only remedy which can be inhaled into the air passages, and thus by direct application destroy the germs causing the disease.

And Despair Has Arrived—Try Hyomei (Pronounced High-o-me)— It's Guaranteed.

Joseph Dural, of Woodstock Street, Travistock Ont., says:

"Catarrh had given me all kinds of suffering for a long time. There was a swelling of the glands under the eyes and adjacent to my nose and the discharges would drop into my throat. I used several remedies, but never got the relief that I did from Booth's Hyomei. I have been so pleased with Hyomei results that I highly recommend its use to catarrh sufferers."

HYOMEI AS A REMEDY FOR CHILDREN

Gives Immediate Relief.

G. Patterson, 59 Stewart Street, Ottawa, Ont., says:

"I would not be without Hyomei in the house. Our child of three years awoke almost choking with croup. I put ten drops of Hyomei on a piece of flannel and pinned it under its chin, and in a few moments it was relieved and went to sleep, and there was no return of the croup."

Mrs. Isaac Prout, 725 Radbomn Street, Woodstock, Ont., says:

"We know Hyomei to be a fine and effective remedy for croup and asthma. Our nine-year-old boy has had a bad trouble with asthmatic croup and we found no relief for it until we used Hyomei. This remedy does fully all that is claimed for it, and we give same our hearty endorsement, and have often recommended it. We purchased Hyomei at the J. T. Pepper drug store."

Hyomei has such a quick effect when the breathing organs of children are affected. It is so easy to use that it's a shame to dose their stomachs.

YOU CAN CURE CATARRH.

J. H. Taylor, 54 Bond Street, Toronto,
Breathed Hyomei and Cured a Long-Standing Case of Chronic Catarrh that Defied all other Remedies, also Toronto and New York Specialists.

Without taking a drop of medicine into the stomach, J. H. Taylor, 54 Bond Street, Toronto, tells how the distressing troubles of catarrh were overcome by simply inhaling Hyomei air. It's the history of tens of thousands similar cases on record, proving that Hyomei can be depended upon to cure catarrh, bronchitis, coughs, colds, and croup. It has no equal for any distress of the breathing organs.

Mr. Taylor says:

"Some years ago while on a hunting trip in Northern Canada, I contracted a severe cold that settled in my head and finally affected my throat. It rapidly developed into catarrh and caused a miserable throat weakness. My head would become clogged during the night and there was a catarrhal dropping from the nose into the throat. Many days I had been unable to breathe other than through my mouth, and the constant hawking and spitting was almost unbearable. I had been treated by the best throat specialists here and in New York, but nothing benefited my condition. I obtained Hyomei and soon found relief, the throat dropping ceased and my head began to clear. I continued with Hyomei for six weeks and after that time I was well in every detail. There has been no return of the trouble since, and I feel grateful in speaking well of Hyomei, as it cured me when all else failed."

IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

William Guest, of Ayr, Ont., says:

"Booth's Hyomei has proven to be a most satisfactory treatment for nasal catarrh and bronchial trouble. I have doctored considerably for these troubles, and conscientiously say that nothing ever used has given me such quick and lasting benefit as this remedy. I have found it especially good for cold in the head and cough. I am very glad to endorse Hyomei as an article of uncommon merit."

Robert Hilliard

The old saying that "little things bring forth large results" is peculiarly applicable to that marvelous remedy "Booth Hyomei." The pocket inhaler is a very little thing—so small that it may be carried about as easily as a penknife—but it does wonders. There is nothing better for the relief and cure of colds, bronchial disorders, catarrh, etc.

ROBERT HILLIARD.

PORT HOPE.

H. D. Radcliffe, blacksmith, living two miles from Port Hope, Ont., states:

"I suffered with a miserable catarrhal trouble for months and although I had tried numerous remedies there seemed no relief for me. I tried Hyomei on advice of our druggist, Mr. Davison. It soon stopped the dropping from the nose into the throat which had previously kept me hawking and spitting from morning until night. My general health gradually built up in every way and my appetite increased. I cannot speak too highly of Booth's Hyomei. We have also used it for the children, and with the most gratifying results."

NOTHING JUST AS GOOD AS HYOMEI.

Lore Fuller

I cheerfully recommend the use of Booth's Hyomei to members of my profession, and to all others whose welfare is dependent upon their general good health, especially upon their freedom from catarrh, colds and bronchial irritation. That includes nearly everybody on earth.

LORE FULLER.

N. Higinbotham, Registrar County Buildings, Residence, 63 Queen Street, Guelph, Ont., says of Hyomei:

"I have the best kind of reasons for giving Booth's Hyomei, procured at the J. D. McKee drug store, my hearty endorsement. I had suffered with a slight deafness and itching sensation in my throat, swelling of nasal glands and glands leading to my eyes, and in fact genuine catarrh for several months. I used several remedies but received no relief until I used Booth's Hyomei. I am glad that there is on sale a remedy that relieves like this one and also glad to endorse the use and speak a good word for Booth's Hyomei."

HYOMEI OUTFIT.

Below we show you an illustration of the original Hyomei outfit. This entire outfit sells for $1.00 at all drug stores and consists of one fully polished hard rubber pocket inhaler, one bottle of Hyomei and simple instructions for use. Don't be gold bricked into accepting something just as good on which there is a larger profit—say "I want Hyomei," and you will get the best and only sensible catarrh remedy on the market.

HYOMEI.

Booth's Hyomei Brings Instant Help to Distressed Breathing Organs. Through Breathing It, Throat, Head and Lungs Get Air of the Pine and Eucalyptus Forests. It Destroys the Germs of Catarrh, Croup, Head and Lung Colds. It Works Quick as You Breathe and Without Dosing the Stomach.

DO YOU KNOW

How the air passages of your head, throat and lungs are constructed?

There are many people suffering from catarrh, bronchial, throat and lung troubles, who may not know the peculiar construction of the air passages of the respiratory organs.

The air passages of the head and nose are designed to dry and heat inhaled air before it reaches the bronchial tubes and lungs, because moist and cold air is bad for the tubes and lungs. In fact, if you will follow the air passages which lead from the nose or mouth into the lungs, you will find the same passage is used for both food and air only until it reaches the windpipe; here a clear cut division comes, making one passage leading to the stomach through which all solids and liquids must pass, the other passage leads to the lungs. At the point of division a valve is located, which, although open at all times for the admission of air, closes at once by the slightest muscular action of the throat and absolutely prevents liquids or food of any kind from entering the bronchial tubes and lungs. Try to swallow and breathe at the same time and you will see how perfectly this little valve does its work. Nothing but air can enter there, even moist vapors are barred, because the condensation of one little drop will cause a violent strangling effort to expel it.

When you try to cure trouble of the breathing organs with liquid stomach dosing, sprays, douches, atomizers, or steam vapors, you are on the wrong track; in fact, going right up against a barrier of Nature's formation. To reach quickly the germs of head colds, catarrh, bronchitis, croup and lung ailments, you want the dry, medicated air of Hyomei, which penetrates to the innermost recesses of the air passages laden with the balsamic properties of the pine and Eucalyptus forests.

The native meaning of the word "Hyomei" is "I heal, I cure." Hyomei solves the problem of bringing to your home, to your room, to your breathing organs, the benefits of forest air. Catarrh and other germ troubles of the breathing organs cannot be destroyed by liquids. They thrive and multiply on moisture. Sometimes to the extent of ruin to the sense of taste and smell. The dry air of Hyomei has a wondrous effect, going every place that air goes in the breath. It destroys the germ life of catarrh, croup, bronchial and lung troubles.

Hyomei will stop a bronchial cough in 20 minutes, and usually cure it in two days.

Irritating coughs, that keep you awake all night, are cured before morning by placing 20 drops of Hyomei on a piece of flannel and pinning it to the night robe on retiring.

CROUP

Is stopped in 30 minutes after the first breath of Hyomei; the child drops into a peaceful sleep and awakens in the morning free from the disease.

Head colds.—The kind that stop up the nose, make the eyes ache, and give you that stuffed up suffocating feeling, are relieved in 20 minutes and cured in one day by simply inhaling Hyomei.

Catarrhal colds.—When the nose runs, the eyes weep, and the hearing becomes impaired, Hyomei gives relief in an hour's time, allays the irritation so that in 24 hours the nose and eye secretions are thoroughly natural.

If people, having a tendency to weakness of the lungs, would only

WEAK keep Hyomei at hand, to be
LUNGED used promptly when any PEOPLE. cough, oppression or sore-ness sets in about the lungs, threatened consumption would be warded off. Of course, there are advanced stages of consumption Hyomei must not be expected to cure, but in nearly every case it gives help that cannot be obtained from any other sources. This also applies to severe asthma and pneumonia.

PARISIAN SAGE

The Only Really Scientific Hair Restorer in the World.

Parisian Sage is undoubtedly the most efficient hair restorer and grower known to science. It is the discovery of a noted student, scientist and chemist, and it will do all it is advertised to do, or money back.

You Can Conscientiously Recommend Parisian Sage to Your Friends.

Cures Dandruff.

The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ. These pests are killed in a few days by the use of Parisian Sage, and the dandruff will entirely disappear.

Falling Hair.

When your hair falls out, blame the dandruff germs. They destroy the life of the hair by attacking the vitality of the hair root. Parisian Sage will stop falling hair, because it kills the germs that kill the hair.

Gentlemen:—I have used Parisian Sage two weeks only, yet in that time I find my hair has wonderfully increased in beauty, thickness and luxuriance. But what surprised me most was the disappearance of all dandruff. It pleases me to recommend such an efficient remedy to all my friends. Gratefully yours, Mrs. Maud Hager, 617 West 135th St., New York City.

Parisian Sage is not a dye. It contains nothing injurious to the hair. Fifty cents a bottle at druggists, or direct, all charges prepaid, from the Canadian manufacturers.

FORT ERIE, ONT.

Itching Scalp.

Just one application of Parisian Sage will stop your scalp from itching. It is really marvelous how quickly it gets to the seat of trouble and relieves the cause.

It Grows Hair.

If your hair is thin Parisian Sage will make it grow thicker. It nourishes the hair roots and causes the hair to gain health and strength, thus producing beautiful hair.

TRUTHFUL HAIR FACTS.

PARISIAN SAGE IS A REAL HAIR FOOD.

For many years mysterious theories in regard to the growth and development in the hair have been circulated, mostly by ignorant quacks, who have endeavored, for their own benefit, to cloud a very simple natural condition by bewildering words and phrases.

The real fact of the matter is that hair grows as does a blade of grass. There is a hair root just as there is a grass root, and both must be supplied with proper nourishment or death will be the result.

Nature supplies the grass root nourishment in the form of water and the mineral substance that the earth yields. To the hair root nature supplies nourishment of an entirely different character, but just as essential to the life of the hair.

If the natural nourishment is not supplied by the system the hair will fall out and artificial nourishment must be applied.

It has long been known that Sage contains elements that make it a valuable hair food and tonic, but it is only by combining Sage with other elements of a hair nourishing character, that really wonderful and permanent results can be obtained.

Parisian Sage is a scientific combination of ingredients that are hair nourishers and microbe destroyers. It is not a dye.

Thus, while Parisian Sage nourishes the hair, it also kills at the same time the dandruff germs that get in their most destructive work when the hair is greatly in need of nourishment.

Parisian Sage is undoubtedly the most successful hair restorer and dandruff cure in the world to-day. It is the discovery of a leading and well known scientist, and contains nothing that can injure the hair.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world; it is pleasant, invigorating and refreshing. It makes the hair soft, beautiful and luxurious. Wherever Parisian Sage is known it is the ladies' favorite hair dressing.

Parisian Sage Cures Dandruff.

Don't forget that.

So far as we know it is the only hair tonic that is guaranteed to do so.

If any of your friends have dandruff, tell them about Parisian Sage.

Tell them to try it at our risk. If it does not cure dandruff in two weeks they can have their money back.

50 Cents a Bottle.

Stopping Falling Hair and Itching of Scalp.

Omaja, Cuba, Feb. 11, 1908.

Dear Sirs:—I feel like writing you a testimonial for your own satisfaction at least.

I had been troubled with itching scalp and falling hair for over two years.

I tried a number of remedies without benefit, and my hair became very thin. I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage, and its use stopped all itching immediately. Before I had used one-fourth bottle my hair had stopped falling and have had no trouble since.

FRED C. WAMPLER.

Do It Now.

The time to act is now—you can kill the germs of dandruff in one week—you can permanently remove every vestige of dandruff from your scalp in ten days.

You can do this by using PARISIAN SAGE, the real hair restorer, and if you don't do it you can have your money back.

All we ask is that you give it a fair trial and if Parisian Sage fails to cure dandruff—stop falling hair—make the hair soft, fluffy and beautiful. If it is not the best hair dressing you ever used you can have your money back.

BOOTH'S BALM.

Nature's Remedy for All Itching, Chapping, Chafing, Inflammation and Irritation of the Skin.

No remedy ever compounded so quickly allays fever and irritation of the skin, affording instant relief to the most distressing forms of torturing and disfiguring skin diseases as Booth's Balm, formerly known as Hyomei Balm.

It is the most penetrating external remedy known and is indispensable for burns, cuts, chapped or chafed skin, bites of insects, bruises, strains, eczema, erysipelas, sores and all forms of skin eruptions, itching piles, etc.

It is also very valuable in cases of catarrhal deafness, croup, colds and catarrh.

Burns and Cuts. Place a small quantity of Booth's Balm over the wound and cover with a piece of clean linen. It gives immediate relief and insures growth of new skin. Its antiseptic qualities make it of great value in these accidents.

Catarrhal Deafness. Booth's Balm should be used in connection with the Hyomei treatment in accordance with the directions accompanying each outfit. A little Booth's Balm should be rubbed gently around and back of the ear and into the ear as far as the finger will extend, also rubbing it back and down the throat below the ears.

Rough and Chapped Hands. Before going to bed, wash the hands in a strong, hot soapsuds of pure soap. After drying them thoroughly, rub on Booth's Balm freely, which will be quickly absorbed. This treatment gives remarkable results for red, rough and chapped hands.

For chapped lips, apply the Balm freely, it will be quickly absorbed.

Croup. No other treatment for this dangerous disease has ever equalled Hyomei. Where croup comes on without any warning, twenty or thirty drops of Hyomei should be put into a bowl of hot water and the child's head held over it, covered with a towel or cloth so that only air filled with Hyomei vapor is breathed. Booth's Balm should be heated and rubbed thoroughly into the chest and throat. The wonderful effect of this treatment will be seen in a few minutes. The paroxysms will stop quickly and the child will drop into peaceful sleep. When the child is subject to croup a piece of flannel dampened with a few drops of Hyomei should be pinned to the night robe, while Booth's Balm should be rubbed into the chest and throat. This treatment will invariably prevent croup.

Itching, Chafing and Irritation. Use Booth's Balm freely on all irritated places. Relief will come quickly and it is seldom that the trouble will recur.

Bites or Stings of Insects. Apply Booth's Balm as soon as the bite or sting is noticed. It will draw out the poison, reduce the swelling and irritation.

Itching Piles and Rectal Troubles. Nothing else is known that is of so much value in these distressing complaints. Wash the parts with Castile soap, and then apply Booth's Balm. This will be absorbed quickly, and its healing, soothing effect will be felt almost immediately.

A Boon to Women. In all cases where an antiseptic ointment is required, Booth's Balm will be of great value. For tender breasts or sore nipples, rub night and morning. During pregnancy the abdomen should be rubbed thoroughly twice a day with Booth's Balm, as it will render the skin and ligaments soft and pliable. Price, 25 cents per box. THE R. T. BOOTH CO., LTD., FORT ERIE, ONT.

Terrible Suffering from Eczema Cured by Booth's Balm.

Mrs. John Hicks, of Elm Street, Bothwell, Ont., says:

"There are no words strong enough to express what my opinion is of Booth's Balm. Our little eight-year-old girl had eczema on her arms and face, and the irritation and annoyance she endured were simply terrible. We doctored and tried several different remedies and all with no success, as the rash and eruptions increased rather than diminished. I heard of Booth's Balm and purchased a box at the Bothwell drug store. We had not applied this remedy two days before the rash commenced to leave. Nearly two boxes were used, but her eczema was cured, and I am convinced that by a good thorough using, Booth's Balm will cure the most stubborn case of eczema. I also know of a bad case of chilblains being cured by this excellent remedy, which has our hearty recommend."

THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR

Is on the outside package of every bottle of Parisian Sage. Should you forget the name, simply ask for the package with "the girl with the Auburn hair" upon it.

And what a wonderful sale Parisian Sage has made for itself in Canada in a few months. And what a multitude of people have been cured of falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp by its use.

And how the Canadian women praise Parisian Sage for its peculiar ability to turn harsh, faded, lusterless hair into fresh, beautiful, silky and lustrous hair in a few days.

Parisian Sage is to-day the favorite hair dressing and tonic of discriminating Canadians, not because of sensational methods of advertising, but because it is the only hair restorer that will do just what it is advertised to do.

If you haven't tried Parisian Sage, get a bottle to-day. It is a delightful dressing. The price is only 50 cents a large bottle at druggists or direct, all charges prepaid, by the Canadian makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

IT KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Parisian Sage is the most invigorating antiseptic hair restorer known to mankind. It is guaranteed, rigidly guaranteed, to cure dandruff in two weeks, to stop falling hair or itching scalp, or money back.

Prof. Ransby, astrologer, of 55 Duke Street, Toronto, Ont., writes as follows of Parisian Sage:

"I can cheerfully endorse your Parisian Sage for hair dressing to all as a grand remedy for dandruff and keeping the scalp in good order. After having been bothered with dandruff for over thirty-five years, I used two fifty-cent bottles of Parisian Sage and rest assured that I would not be without it on any account. I am thankful I tried it as I am before the public and rather well known in Canada and the United States. I shall always recommend it to my patrons and friends, and feel that I am only doing my duty in sending this testimonial on to you to use it if you so wish."
